Arbuthnot, John, 1607-1706. The history of John Bull ... 1925. (Card 2)

Several editions of each of these five tracts appeared separately in 1712; they were reprinted, divided into 2 parts, in vol. II of Pope's and Swift's Miscellanies (1727) under title: Law is a bottomless pit, or The history of John Bull. Later editions have followed this arrangement and since that time the work has usually been called by its second title: The history of John Bull. cf. p. 7.

The editor ascribes the authorship of the pamphlets to Dean Swift. Bibliography: p. 248-250.

The history of treaties: containing all those that have been concluded from the peace of Munster inclusive, to this time; the several infringements, or encroachments alleged on all sides, particularly urged against France; and the pretensions which have been the occasion of breaches. The memorable actions and events of the wars that have ensued from time to time; the whole being a series of the most signal occurrences, either martial or civil, for above sixty years, throughout all Christendom. Of singular use for the understanding of the nature of treaties, the grounds on which the present negociations are carried on.

Holmes, Raphael, d. 1580? comp. Holmes's Chronicles of England, Scotland, and Ireland ... London, J. Johnson etc., 1807-08.

One of a uniform series of chronicles published under the superintendence of Sir Henry Ellis and others. The 1877 edition was compiled by Holmsted, William Harrison and Richard Stanyhurst; the 1887 edition, with the sections ordered by the Privy Council replaced, was edited by Sir Henry Ellis. Includes "The description of Scotland" by Hector Boetius ... Whereupon is inferred the Historie of Scotland; originally translated for the 1877 edition; also "The Irish history composed and written by Giraldus Cambrensis" translated for the edition of 1887.
